Recreation

Rolling hills, valleys, limestone bluffs, streams, rivers, spring-fed caves and timber have cultivated our landscape into a paradise for nature enthusiasts and sportsmen alike. This scenic environment is home to a variety of wild game and fish. Clayton County also has spring fed caves.

The Upper Mississippi River National Wildlife Refuge District Office and Visitor Center is located between McGregor and Marquette. The refuge is one of the largest, most popular wildlife refuges in the United States. Marquette is also home to the Driftless Area Wetland Centre where visitors can discover the unique natural environments of Northeast Iowa. The Mississippi River offers great opportunities to fish remote backwaters and channels as well as along sandbars, islands, dams or off houseboats, which are available to rent locally.

Each season brings about new opportunities for exploring nature at her finest. There are many miles of hiking and biking trails for you to enjoy. The 35 mile Mississippi River Trail (MRT) is especially popular with bikers. Parks and recreational areas are great settings for birdwatching as well. Whether you prefer quiet evening strolls in the park or an overnight hiking and camping adventure, you'll find it here in Clayton County!

There are plenty of opportunities to be active during the winter months as well. The Mississippi is a common place for ice fishing during the cold winter months. Cross-country skiing and snowshoeing are popular on a variety of groomed trails. The Clayton County Snowbirds maintain several miles of snowmobiling trails throughout the county. Visit the website www.claytoncountysnowbirds.com

A variety of public fishing areas are sure to satisfy all types of fishermen. Big Spring Trout Hatchery, an integral part of Iowa's trout program, is an excellent place to get fishing information, or to cast a line for some fishing in the spring. Bloody Run, Buck Creek, Ensign Hollow, Joy Springs, Bear Creek, Motor Mill, Hickory Creek, Yellow River, Sny Magill, the Maquoketa River and the North and South Cedar Rivers are also great fishing spots.

The Turkey and Volga Rivers are popular routes for fishing, paddling and tubing. Bring your own canoes or kayaks and launch at one of the many access points found along either river. Experience the excitement of Elkader's Whitewater Park! Canoes, kayaks and tubes are also available to rent locally.

Both the Turkey and Volga Rivers offer great trout and bluegill fishing and a variety of wildlife, historic sites and beautiful scenery to enjoy as you meander downstream. Plan an afternoon trip or pack your tent and camp at one of the campgrounds located on the banks of the rivers.

Public hunting areas include Becker, Big Spring, Bloody Run, Buck Creek, Ensign Hollow, Joy Springs, Mossy Glen, Motor Mill, Pleasant Ridge and Sny Magill/North Cedar river. Collectively, these areas allow deer, grouse, squirrel, pheasant and turkey hunting.

Unique to any place in the world, Clayton County's Paleozoic Plateau is an unspoiled wonderland that eluded the last Ice Age's flattening glaciation. Its winding roadways and trails, wildlife flyways and habitats, deeply-carved river valleys, forested ridges, limestone bluffs and Karst geology with underground caves, spring-fed waterfalls and trout streams will deliver unlimited natural encounters.

Off the Beaten Path:
See Clayton County on your ATV

One of the best ways to see Clayton County is to leave the main roads behind on an All Terrain Vehicle (ATV) or Side by Side (SXS). Take the road less traveled and see Clayton County's beautiful hillsides, bluffs, river valleys and woodlands on your ATV or ORV.

The Clayton County Supervisors recently updated the ordinance concerning ATV's, ORV's and Side by Sides. Currently off road vehicles are allowed on all secondary roads in Clayton County with the exception of Clayton Road near Garnavillo. Off road vehicles are not allowed on state and US highways. Operators must follow all traffic rules and have a safety course if under 18. All vehicles must be registered if not used for agricultural purposes.

Birding

As you walk the many beautiful, winding trails in Clayton County, listen for the songs of the native birds ringing throughout the air. Clayton County is a destination for birdwatchers to view over 200 species, including the rare Cerulean Warbler.

Clayton County is proud to be considered a part of the Mississippi River Flyway. 40% of North American shorebirds and waterfowl use the flyway as a route when migrating. Clayton Co. ranks second in the state of Iowa for number of nesting eagles. You can see these birds and more when you take an informational birding boat tour on the Mississippi with The Maiden Voyage! (563-880-8970)

In National, visit the Althea R. Sherman Swift Tower. In the early 1900s, Sherman had this tower built to observe and research the Chimney Swift birds' nesting cycle. The tower is open for tours in the Spring and Fall or by appointment. Call 563-964-2447 or 563-964-2535 for more information.

Whitewater

In 2014, Elkader became the second city in Iowa to convert a low-head dam into a whitewater recreation area. The combination of the Elkader, Charles City, and Manchester whitewater parks makes Northeast Iowa a real destination for anyone interested in paddlesports. You can river run or playboat, SUP, boogie board or tube in three different parks all within two hours of each other.

Elkader features the Gobbler Wave. Surfing and spinning are possible at low flows while higher levels offer the opportunity for vertical moves.

River Bluffs Scenic Byway

northeastiowarcd.org/scenic-byways

The River Bluffs Scenic Byway is a 109 mile route that introduces travelers to the scenic beauty and history found in Northeast Iowa. The byway is designated as the 2nd most scenic byway in Iowa and is an ideal loop for visitors traveling the Great River Road as the roads intersect at two different points.

This region of the state is distinctive and diverse and features sprawling hillside vistas, rolling valleys, cascading streams, breathtaking views from towering limestone bluffs and luxurious green landscape that paint the countryside as far as the eye can see. Drive the Scenic Byway every season to enjoy the blazing autumn colors, the sparkle of a fresh winter snow, the blossoms of flowering trees in spring or the sites and sounds of summer.

The physical beauty and unique geology of the area has also made this byway a popular destination for outdoor enthusiasts. The region is scattered with parks, nature centers, fishing hotspots, excellent campgrounds, hiking trails and water trail access points.

While cruising the byway, you are sure to catch a glimpse of the past. Abundant historical sites will captivate your interest and spark a desire to learn about the area's culture.

Each of the 13 communities along the byway offers its own stories, festivals and places to explore. Whether you chose to experience the mesmerizing views of the Mississippi, conquer a four acre corn maze or devour some of the world's most unique sandwiches, your road to adventure awaits on the River Bluffs Scenic Byway!

The town of Strawberry Point derives its name from the many wild strawberries that were once plentiful in the area. Today, it is the gateway to Iowa's Driftless Region, home of the World's Largest Strawberry, and located four miles north of Backbone State Park - Iowa's First State Park.

The annual Strawberry Days celebration is full of fun for all ages and always held on the second weekend of June; featuring live concert entertainment, parade, a tractor pull, food vendors, inflatables for all ages, and of course, free strawberries and ice cream.

Each year, on the last full weekend of July, the town hosts Iowa's oldest and largest bluegrass festival featuring local, regional, and national bands. Family-friendly, lots of jamin', Songwriters Workshop, Jam Camp, free instrument workshops and five live stage shows. Check the Backbone Bluegrass Festival and Strawberry Jam Camp websites for more.

If you like the outdoors, we have it all year-around. Rivers, lakes and streams teaming with native game fish and three species of trout; Rainbow, Brown, & Brook. Hike the Devil's Backbone and camp at one of the many campgrounds, snowmobiling, cross country skiing and snowshoeing during the winter months and swimming, kayaking and canoeing during the summer months. Volga City is located on the Volga River in the heart of the picturesque Volga Valley, one of the most scenic locations in the state of Iowa. Recreational opportunities abound with the best small-mouth bass fishing in the area, canoe access, river swimming, softball field, basketball court and volleyball court. Beautiful walking trails wind along the river where eagles come to fish while herons and Canadian geese dot the shoreline.

Spend some time in our campground bordered by a native wildflower and prairie grassland on one side and the river on the other. Take time to relax and regenerate at the new River Bluffs Reflection Park; bring canoes, kayaks, or a lawn chair and reconnect with your loved ones. Pack a picnic or call the Corner Stop for some delicious broasted chicken or pizza for your picnic. The Volga City Park features fun for the children on the colorful playground equipment, two shelters, restrooms, basketball court and volleyball court which makes this a fun-filled family outing. When the weather challenges the chance to enjoy the outdoors, snuggle up with a great book in the library. Come visit the home of the historic Volga City Opera House, Northeast Iowas hidden gem and an ideal spot for a wedding or private receptions with historic beauty and surrounded by green space. Enjoy the drive to Volga along the River Bluffs Scenic Byway on highway C24. Bring your truck and friends to Volga for the annual Volga City Truck Cruise and the Volga City Diesel Show, revved up family events full of trucks.

Volga City, Iowa, was laid out in November 1851 by W. H., Rary J. and A. L. Gould. Three individual additions were respectively made in 1857, 1867 and 1877. In 1896, Volga City was incorporated with a mayor, a clerk and six council members. This form of government, with 5 council members, is still in Volga today.
